

In the matter of LPFM - I am and have been a listener and supporter of K-LOVE Radio here in Arizona at 105.5 and 89.1 FM Radio since K-LOVE became a presence here. I understand that the FCC is proposing to expand LPFM in a manner that could jeopardize the ability of hundreds of thousands of K-Love Listeners and Supporters to hear the positive, encouraging music and family-friendly message of K-LOVE Radio.

Please, please, do not allow this to happen. We appreciate and support non-commercial Christian radio and because I support K-LOVE here, my family in Oregon and other parts of the Country get to hear positive, encouraging, family-friendly radio, too. It is my earnest prayer that the FCC will vote against the proposed rule changes that would allow LPFM to expand and take priority on the translator service utilized by K-LOVE and other similarly-situated stations. There are enough of the "Howard Stern" types on the radio frequencies. Many radio stations also play music rife with cursing and violence - oftentimes advocating spousal abuse and an anti-law enforcement view. This type of "music" is not entertaining or edifying, to anyone, especially the young audience usually attracted to that type of programming. K-Love Radio and Air One Radio provide a safe haven for the entire family with different genres of music and programming without sacrificing family values. I urge you, as a wise and discerning body, to enact no rule changes that could potentially force K-LOVE radio off the air. My country, my city, my family are better for positive and encouraging family-friendly programming offered by K-LOVE. Thank you for your gracious consideration of my plea.

Sincerely, Andrea Austin, Glendale, Arizona
